

IGLeague Global Policy

By competing or participating in any IGLeague Events or Competition you hereby agree to follow the IGLeague Global Policy and understand that IGLeague Staff can add, remove or alter any rule or the Global Policy at any time as they see fit to do so. Failure to follow the IGLeague Global Policy will result in actions taken by IGLeague Staff.

All individuals must read, acknowledge, and agree to the IGLeague terms prior to participation in an event. IGLeague and its partners reserve the right to use teams likeness, branding, and gameplay for these events. These may be used but are not limited to; event presentation, advertising, and for use on our websites and other media platforms.

IGLeague has the right to refuse access and service to any individual, organization, group, or party.

Cheating to win or lose a match not only will it hurt you and/or your teammates it hurts the competitive community as a whole.

Cheating Examples

- Exploiting an in-game glitch intentionally to gain an advantage.
- Attempts to alter the results of any match through match-fixing, or any form of collusion.

- No account sharing. If a player is found account sharing in an IGLLeague Seasonal Match and/or events, said players' team will receive a penalty. And said player will be reprimanded at IGLLeague Staff's discretion.
- Interfering with any other player's connection to the game service by any means.
- Using third party software to gain an advantage against opposing teams.
- Using chemical assistance to boost your abilities passed their natural state "Doping".

Cheating to win or lose a match not only will it hurt you and/or your teammates. It hurts the competitive community as a whole.

Collusion Examples, such as, but not limited to:

- Soft play, which is defined as any agreement among two (2) or more Participants to not damage, impede, or otherwise play to the best of their ability in a Game.
- Agreeing to a ruleset outside the Rules Posted from IGLLeague.
- Pre-arranging to split prize money and/or any other form of compensation with something other than on a Participant's own Team.
- Deliberately losing a Game, detrimentally altering performance for compensation or for any other reason "throwing", or attempting to induce another Participant to do so.

- This also includes but is not limited to Smurfing, Account sharing, any other means of Player based deception.

Doping Example such as, but not limited to:

- Using Adderall without a prescription from a licensed Doctor.
- Any other controlled or dangerous substance deemed by IGLLeague or any Developer/State or Federal Government that the competitor resides.

• Match-Fixing Examples, such as, but not limited to:

- Taking money from opponents, third parties, taking materials for compensation
 - The act of using leverage from outside the game to secure a specific result.
- Don't take part in match fixing, the act or manipulation of the integrity of the game. This and any other practice see by IGLLeague will be counted as match fixing and be punished accordingly
 - Manipulating a tournament structure or seasonal IGLLeague matches to secure weaker opponents in later weeks of the season. Is not only bad ethics, it is against our rules at IGLLeague.
 - Betting or any other form of gambling on any IGLLeague match or tournament by anyone who is competing or associated in our events is prohibited. Having a 3rd party individual or entity gamble on the events on their or team's behalf is also prohibited.

- Offensive images or expressions within IGLLeague events and platforms is prohibited. This includes provocative imagery. What defines offensive imagery is up to the sole determination of IGLLeague.
- Getting upset from a match and verbally attacking another PLAYER or STAFF member in any IGL match or social platform is prohibited. All players are to be held to a high competitive integrity standard. Keep global/all chat to a minimum during all IGL matches. Do not use offensive/violent language or actions towards another player or staff member in or at IGLLeague matches, events and platforms.
- Using private, non-public information that you obtain or have of another IGLLeague associated entity to “DOX” them on any and all platforms is prohibited. IGLLeague Staff have the authority to determine the definition of “DOX” outside of this document.

Doxing Example, such as, but not limited to:

- Releasing personal photos of an individual.
 - Posting an individual's phone number or address on the internet.
 - Releasing information about an individual's family, place of employment, or other private documents.
 - Encouraging others to use released information to harass an individual
- Do not harass other players in IGLLeague DMs, forums, or other platforms. We also have a “block” button. If you are being harassed, use the block option and report it to IGLLeague staff immediately.

- Do not sexually harass anyone at any time. Sexual Harassment is a fast way for a permanent BAN from all IGLLeague Online and LAN events. Also, you will receive a permanent BAN on ALL IGLLeague platforms.
- Refrain from denigration of anyone in the IGLLeague community. This is not a place for religious, political, or otherwise sensitive off-topic discussions. Remember that we are a community of all races, religion, nationalities, genders, etc. Do not discriminate!

Defend yourself, as well as your fellow competitors from unacceptable or offensive behavior. It would only strengthen the community. You should try and be supportive of other players and teams in the community. The better everyone's attitudes, the better competition you will get. Be a good competitor; try your best at all times even when facing defeat. You are a competitor, losing happens. Do not act like a child. Practice, Scrim, get better and get the W next match. Be courteous to one another. There's no need to be "Toxic" during IGLLeague events and matches that focus on your game. You are trying to build your brand and reputation in the community to reach the top and your goals. So be punctual when showing up for your matches. Show up on time and ready to start. A lot of people competing in IGLLeague are trying to make a name for themselves in the scene they are competing in. Just remember in Esports, reputation means something so make sure to grow both your brand and reputation in a positive way. Also, remember you are responsible for your organization's actions as a member. You are representing them within the IGLLeague community. You are always responsible for your own actions but the actions of your teammates could affect you along with them. Regulating an inappropriate teammate's attitude or actions will make the IGLLeague competitive community a better place.

IGLeague Staff puts on these events and leagues so please, try and make things easy on them by having your teams organized and ready on match or tournament day. You understand that IGLLeague Staff has the right to add, remove or alter any rule at any time as they see fit. As a competitor you understand that all IGLLeague Staff decisions are final. Always try and make the competitive community better than when you joined it.

This document is subject to change at any time from IGLLeague, or any other approved party.
